

Bankruptcy Prediction Dashboard

Debt Ratio Density Plot

ROA Distribution by Bankruptcy Status

Financial Indicator Averages

Correlation of Financial Ratios with Bankruptcy Risk

Bankrupt firms tend to have significantly lower Return on Assets (ROA) and Net Worth, along with noticeably higher Debt Ratios. These patterns suggest that financial instability—marked by low profitability and high leverage—is a strong predictor of bankruptcy.

Negative correlation (ROA): Higher values associated with lower bankruptcy risk. Positive correlation (Debt Ratio): Higher values associated with higher bankruptcy risk.